

The Handshake Foundation

Press Release

The AAU Junior Olympic Games Golf Championship 2015 is right around the corner. Since the event inception in 2012, over one thousand junior golfers have participated, representing thirty countries. The event truly reflects the Olympic spirit in our young athletes and the on-going dedication of The Handshake Foundation, the AAU and host organization, Veritas World Junior in growing the game of golf among our youth.

The opening ceremonies to the weeklong tournament will take place on Saturday, July 18 at Angel Stadium. This colorful display and excited junior golfers will parade around the outfield holding their country's flag proudly.

To support the event, The Handshake Foundation is committed to raising funds through the sale of tickets to the Angels versus Boston Red Sox game that evening. A donation price of $100 gets you into the opening ceremonies and two tickets. It's the hottest game of the year!

Funds raised will go toward underwriting tournament entry fees to the week-long championship for selected underserved junior golfers. For donors who cannot attend the game, they have the option of donating their tickets back to The Handshake Foundation to give out to kids in our program and other community partner youth organizations, including the Tiger Woods Learning Center in Anaheim.
